

Assistant Professor, Political Science and Public Administration MA 243

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration at Auburn University Montgomery is seeking applicants for a tenure track position at the Assistant or Associate Professor level.

The University: Founded in 1967, Auburn University at Montgomery (AUM) is the metropolitan campus of Auburn University, a land-grant institution. Located in the state capital of Alabama, AUM serves a diverse student body of approximately 5,400 students and faculty/staff of 575 in five academic schools: Business, Education, Liberal Arts, Nursing and Sciences. The School of Business is AACSB accredited at the Bachelors and Masters level and is seeking separate Accounting accreditation. The Information Systems Department is home to the Storage Area Network Center of Excellence. Montgomery supports several cultural attractions, including the Alabama Shakespeare Festival, Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts, and the Rosa Parks Library and Museum.

Responsibilities/Qualifications: A successful applicant should be able to demonstrate a thorough grasp of the history and theory of the fields of public administration and public policy as well as have a strong teaching and research background in one or more of these areas: public budgeting and finance; organizational theory and behavior; public/administrative ethics; research design and methods; program evaluation; information technology policy; non-profit management; and decision analysis. The ability to teach online or web-enhanced courses and familiarity with GIS analysis would be bonuses.

The department is seeking candidates who can demonstrate the capacity to participate in program development and who have an active interest in working with graduate students, including serving on dissertation committees and promoting student research.

To Apply: Applications should include a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching philosophy, a description of the candidate's current research program and copies of published work, samples of teaching evaluations, and syllabi for pertinent courses. Auburn University Montgomery is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer and encourages applications from women and minorities. You can visit the department's website at www.aum.edu/pspa.
