3. ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

Auburn University at Montgomery
Professor of Philosophy	2022 – present
Associate Professor of Philosophy	2016 – 2022
Assistant Professor of Philosophy	2010 – 2016

4. ADMINISTRATIVE EXPERIENCE

Chair , Department of English and Philosophy	2023 – present
Interim Chair , Department of English and Philosophy	July 2022 – 2023

I lead a department that offers an English major, three minors (English Language and Literature, Creative Writing, and Philosophy), and a undergraduate certificate in Professional and Technical Writing. The department has twenty-three full time faculty, one full-time administrative associate, and numerous part-time faculty. The department teaches nearly 100 courses per semester during the regular academic year, including classes that serve the entire institution within the core curriculum. My primary responsibilities include: developing and implementing an efficient and cost effective course schedule for fall, spring, and summer; managing departmental workload and teaching assignments; monitoring enrollments; personnel management, including hiring and managing department faculty and staff, faculty and staff development, overseeing faculty promotion and tenure processes, and mediating conflicts and concerns between and among members of the department; reviewing and managing curriculum development for majors and minors; managing the department operations and management budget and the Composition program budget; seeking additional resources to support departmental needs and initiatives; addressing student concerns and issues; representing the department and its programs across the university, at recruitment and orientation events, and at alumni and community events; assessment of all department programs and courses in the core curriculum; strategic planning at the department level, ensuring alignment with university and college initiatives.

Special Assistant to the Dean , College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences	2020 – 2022

I worked with the Dean’s Office on numerous initiatives related to recruitment and retention, student engagement, and faculty development. I conducted syllabi review for departments across the college to ensure compliance with university syllabus policy in academic year 2020-2021. I co-organized and co-facilitated three teaching and learning sessions for faculty in the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences in preparation for Fall 2020. I worked with chairs and the Office of Distance Education to lead a Faculty Development Institute on models for teaching consistent with COVID-19 restrictions and policies. I coordinated the College of Liberal Arts and Social Science Teaching Brownbag Sessions, organizing six sessions in academic year 2021-2022. I chaired a review committee charged with a systematic revision of the tenure and promotion standards in the Department of Criminal Justice.

Coordinator, Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies Program 2017 – 2022

The central responsibilities for this role included program management and advising of Interdisciplinary Studies majors. Within the domain of program management, I maintained, reviewed, and redesigned curriculum; facilitated the development of programs, ensuring proposals achieved approvals at the university level and with external agencies (e.g., Alabama Commission on Higher Education); taught the Interdisciplinary Studies Capstone course each semester; taught additional courses in the Interdisciplinary Studies program as needed; managed graduation application audits; worked across the university to ensure compliance for reporting for student athletes and students receiving veteran’s benefits; conducted annual assessment of student learning outcomes and operational outcomes for the degree; collaborated with the Office of Enrollment Management on short-term special initiatives and long-term recruitment and retention projects; coordinated with the Office of Central Advising as well as other professional advisors to ensure student awareness of and access to the Interdisciplinary Studies program; developed connections with departments and programs across the university to facilitate pathways to degree completion; collaborated with other colleges in the development of new concentrations and programs; partnered with the Career Development Center to help students align their major with potential career trajectories; advised majors each semester to ensure timely completion of the degree; reviewed transcripts for and consulted with prospective majors; participated in all student success and registration call campaigns; and participated in new student orientation for first-time and transfer student populations entering the university as Interdisciplinary Studies majors.

Seminar Participant, The Character Project Summer Seminar (Wake Forest University) 2013

8. PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Council of Colleges of Arts & Sciences Seminar for Department Chairs/Heads 2022

I participated in an intensive virtual seminar covering numerous dimensions of the work of leadership and management as a department chair. The seminar included sessions and case studies in leadership, resource management, working with Deans, managing people and conflict mediation, career development, and recruitment and retention of faculty.

Provost Fellow 2019 – 2020

I was selected to participate in an intensive training program in academic leadership facilitated by Dr. Mrinal Mugdh Varma, Provost and Senior Vice Chancellor, Auburn University at Montgomery. This training covered numerous aspects of senior academic leadership roles at the university. Additionally, I had opportunities to work with senior administrative faculty and staff in comprehensive review and revision of policies.

AUM Mediation Skills Training 2019

I completed a 20-hour course conducted by R. Cooper Shattuck. This course was sufficient to earn a certification as a trained mediator.

9. SHARED GOVERNANCE ROLES

Past-President, Faculty Senate

2019 – 2020

The past-president's primary responsibility is to represent AUM as an ex officio member of the Auburn Board of Trustees. In addition to this responsibility, I worked closely with the President of Faculty Senate and her Executive Committee immediately following the pivot to online instruction during the COVID-19 pandemic. During this time, the President was not able to fulfill her responsibilities and I stepped in to organize Faculty Senate and Faculty Council meetings and ensure the completion of the charges for the academic year. This included completion of the new faculty annual evaluation form.

President, Faculty Senate

2018 – 2019

The president's primary responsibility is to ensure that the Executive Committee steers the Faculty Senate and Faculty Council in the fulfillment of their purposes outlined in the Faculty Handbook. When appropriate, the president and the Executive Committee construct annual charges to add to the standing charges for various Senate committees. A secondary role involves communication with all constituents. The president is the central person in charge of ensuring that all work conducted by Senate committees and the Senate is distributed to faculty-at-large. The president also acts as a liaison between Faculty Senate and senior academic administration in the shared governance process, responding to requests to address concerns within the faculty ranks and altering administration to questions or concerns from faculty. The central achievements of the Faculty Senate during this time included: the creation of distinguished faculty awards and recognitions; a complete revision and update to the Faculty Handbook; the presentation of a report on the state of shared governance at AUM; and increased structures for communication and transparency within Faculty Senate.

President-elect, Faculty Senate

2017 – 2018

In this role, I worked with the Executive Committee to set the agenda for Faculty Senate and Faculty Council and charges for Senate committees. During this year, we worked with senior academic leadership to complete a comprehensive reorganization of academic units. I was charged with ensuring that the Executive Committee's roles and responsibilities in this decision-making process were accessible and transparent to all members of Faculty Council. As president-elect, I served as a member of the Faculty Welfare and the Planning, Priorities, and Resource Allocation Faculty Senate committee.

Additional Shared Governance Roles

At-large member, University Post-Tenure Review/Promotion & Tenure Committee

2020 – 2022

Member, Planning, Priorities, and Resource Allocation Committee

2017 – 2020

Member, Executive Committee

2017 – 2019

Member, Faculty Welfare Committee

2017 – 2018

College of Arts and Sciences Senator, Auburn University at Montgomery

2016 – 2017
